"Gotta have a C"

Whose car?

Good shot!

Shall cluster 'round thy name . . .

These pages are DEDICATED by the BAGPIPE to you. This dedication comes through the staff, but is from all students of Presbyterian Junior College. It comes from those with whom you have worked and taught. We proudly dedicate the 1959 edition of the BAGPIPE to you . . . our teacher, helper, and friend . . . BENJAMIN M. McKULIK.

• . . memories of yesteryear . . .

Can we ever forget P.J.C.? The buildings we have walked through day after day may not remind us of the Waldorf; time has worn its mark into every piece of wood—"L. O. loves V. E.," "Ross . . . Shhh!" But it is not the wood—we shall remember. As one of the fellows put it, "This place kind o' gets to yuh." He was talking about the people—the '59ers and '60ers whom you knew so well. You will meet them again as you cruise through this book: the guys who clustered in front of the cafeteria after supper and told jokes; those fellows who squeezed like sardines into the TV room for the World's Series; the crowd on the front porch hurrying through cigarettes before chapel; those coke-drinkers and nap-nippers down at "Tom's place"; piles of people—good-time Charlies, yelling co-eds, amused townspeople, the coach—who filled the air with "locomotives" at ballgames; the all-night "parties" before exams; "glowing" remarks made by chapel conductors; our unofficial "bell-ringing" society; the gang who put up the decorations at dances, wiseguys who pulled them down, gals who brought them home (and you too, if you were lucky!); banquets and picnics; "smokers"; labs—"who took my microscope?"; typing drills—"Mrs. Hellekson, this roller won't work." classrooms—"Well, who did discover America, anyway?"; and last but not least, the long anxious faces at graduation.

Can you just imagine turning at the red light, moving past "Upchurch," seeing the big open lawn, the white columns, the dorm, the guys shouting and waving at you as they toss the football through the bright sunny air? "Hi there, old daddy, want to play?"

To the Students . . .

You are the most important people at Presbyterian Junior College. You are the ones whom the college was founded and for whose good it is carried on. If you are better, wiser, and more capable men and women as a result of your attendance, we have succeeded.

May God's richest blessings abide upon you as you come to the end of your stay on our campus, and may you have a sense of inward fellowship with Him all the days of your journey through life.

A strong success . . . gratitude due to Professor Jackson and his motley crew, Edmund Benjamin and Gerald Cox, also scorekeepers, timekeepers, and last, as usual, referees . . .

Organization is the heart of success.

SOPHOMORE ATHLETES

BOB "RED" JESSEN, from Mount Holly, N. C., has been an outstanding center on the basketball squad for the past two years. He stands 6 feet, 5 inches and weighs 175 lbs. The "Scotties" will lose some valuable material with the graduation of Bob.

DALE "MATE" LANNING, from Salisbury, N. C., handles the business behind the plate. He is an outstanding catcher on the baseball team and the "Scotties" will suffer from his loss.

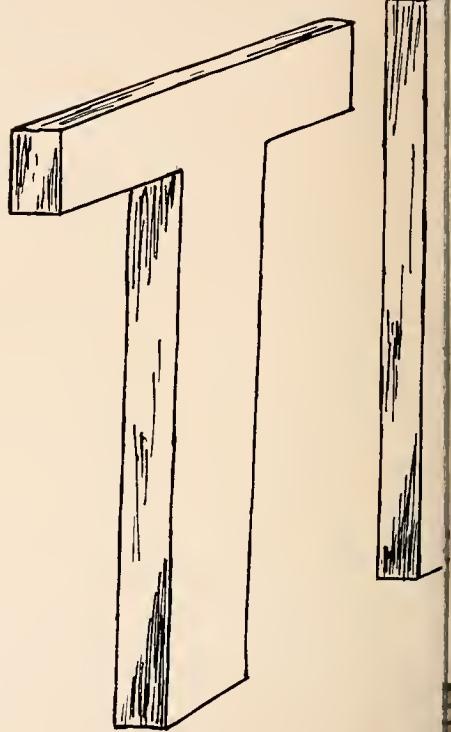

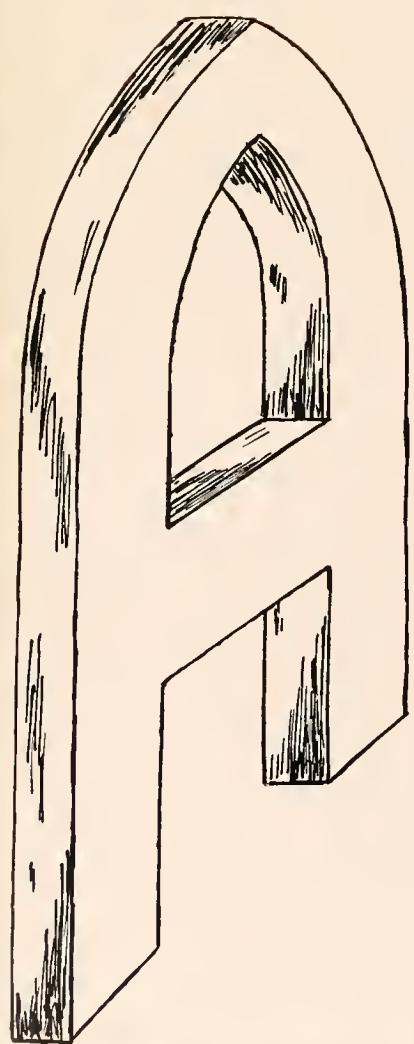

LARRY "SMELTZER" MIMS, from Turbeville, S. C., is an outstanding fielder on the P. J. C. team. He plays left field and will be a great loss to the "Scotties."

PHIL "RED DOG" DUGGINS, from Winston-Salem, N. C., has been the power on the mound. He can really "fire that pill." The "Scotties" will lose a fine pitcher with the graduation of Phil.

SHELBY "SHELBO" BARRINEAU, from Lake City, S. C., has shown ability in basketball and baseball. His outstanding play on the baseball team, has proven him to be the most versatile player on the squad.

Resolutions . . . work . . . reports . . . deadlines . . . accomplishments . . . a slightly tarnished success this year, the success due for the most part to the efforts of Editor, Dick Austin, and a few compatriots . . . it was printed as a report of happenings, highlighted by a superior sports section and some occasionally fine editorials . . . nothing radical, but a fine job.
Enjoyed by all.

Purpose . . . plans . . . accomplishments . . . well meaning, though often dormant . . . accomplished the purchase of sweaters and letters for the now disbanded cheerleaders, after organizing them . . . really not much that could be done . . .

Effort without a cause.

PHIL PAYNE
President

Activity . . . work . . . ambition, more than is wise perhaps, but nevertheless from this stems accomplishments . . . one of the few clubs that can show an actual product of its work . . . A plan was formulated and followed . . . the club was not easily accepted, but by its initiative, convinced the skeptics . . . It has proved useful, even to the citizens of Maxton, notably the police department . . . an emphasis on work for fun and profit.

From initiative, work . . . an accomplishment worthy of pride.
